The late-night shopping challenge

As someone who was new to the country and the city, everything seemed perfect at first and I was very excited. However, as I continued living here, I couldn't help but see the bad sides of the whole thing.

What comes to my mind first is that after a certain time in the evening, like 7 or tops 9, everything closed, even the big shopping malls...

In my country everything is open until midnight or even after midnight. So if I want to go buy or drink something at a cafe, I could go at 10 p.m. and it would still be open...

The 'where-the-heck-is this-room?!' challenge

The making-friends challenge

This was the first time that I stayed away from my home country.

The first thing I would like to mention is that we don't really plan a meeting.

When we want to visit someone's home, we just go to their home, either have lunch or dinner there, and you are very welcome.

And if you do have a planned gathering, you will be asked to stay as long as you can...
