

How to choose my specialization/minor?

In this section, we try to help you with the specializations issue. What and when to choose? What steps you need to take? How does it work in Neptun?

Please read the following guide regarding your programme.

GENERAL INFORMATION

All BA programmes require 180 credits to complete to be able to graduate. The 180 credits must be the ones described in the programmes' curricula.

Each BA curriculum (study unit list) contains a 50-credit specialisation module. You can choose the 50-credit module in the curriculum, or choose a so called Minor programme. The Minor is a 50-credit package of another study programme.

The specialisations and minors must be started in the 2nd year of the BA studies, except for some programmes (more information on the Faculty website).

Therefore, students must choose the specialisation or minor by the end of the first year, or earlier. The application for the programmes in Neptun is in May-June every academic year.

- The specialisation options should be checked in your programme's curriculum.
- You can read more about the Minors here: <https://www.btk.elte.hu/minors>

If you are interested in taking a minor instead of a specialization from your study programme, please check the MINOR PAGE on the Faculty website + contact your international or study coordinators for further discussion.

SPECIALIZATION AND MINOR REGISTRATION 2022/23

Neptun is open for specialization registration from 17:00 28 May 2023 until 20:00 CEST 22 June 2023.

To be able to register for any specialisations, first you have to register for 2023/24/1 as Active under the Administration/Enrollment, Registration menu.

The specialisation registration is available in Neptun in the Administration/Module selection menu during the above mentioned period.

If you have a technical problem, please contact your coordinators.
